Hawaiian Hotel Dinners -- Assorted Vegetables and Fruits--Various Other Bills.

Meat--to say nothing of turkey--was served first in yesterday's feast of bubolic bills, so that assorted vegetables and fruits will not be unwelcome today. When the reader has satisfied his appetite on these he can put the finishing touches to his Barnyardal feast by mentally partaking of excellent port, fine sherry and A1 whiskey, Three Star brandy, some Old Tom, or a little Holland gin. Cigars will have to be forsover for today for they do not
accounts.

Chickens appear in the first bill, that of Camarinos, as do also dates, mixed nuts, walnuts and many other necessities.

Ah Chew is very appropriately a supplier of edibles; his bill comes second in today's list, it is for a respectable amount and represents for the most part assorted vegetables, evidently for the camps, though Ah Chew does not take the trouble to say so. The only particularly tempting item in the whole account is "large lobsters."

In the third bill the reader is taken to the Hawaiian hotel to stop and supply if he be not already satisfied--with Armstrong Smith and Colonel Jones and staff. Then in the fourth account, the wine appears.

The following is the fourteenth instalment of the bills published in the

All Tired Out

Pale, Thin, Poor Blood, No Energy.

These are the symptoms of impure blood, starved blood. Take out the impurities, feed the blood, and health quickly returns.

Mrs. George Mitchell, of Yucilla St., Buninyong, Victoria, send us her photograph with the following story:

"I suffered terribly from general debility.
I had no energy. I was tired in the morning as at night. It did not seem possible for me to keep up. I was thin and pale and my blood was very poor. I had no appetite. I gradually grew weaker and weaker. When almost completely exhausted I read about

AYER'S Sarsaparilla

I immediately tried it and began to improve at once. A few bottles completely restored me to health."

You cannot get the best results from Ayer's Sarsaparilla if your bowels are constipated. Take just enough of Ayer's Pills each night to cause one good free movement of the bowels the day following.
